

Jim McKinney

Jim currently lives in Gardnerville, NV. He has been a working cowboy all his adult life and thinks of himself as a Cowboy Braider. Making his own gear for some years, he started selling some at the Big Loop Rodeo to other working cowboys and has continued to braid for the cowboy.

From the cow to the finished product, he does all his own hide prep. He says he wants his gear to be what the rider puts on his horse when he leaves the barn for the day's work and looks good enough that he uses it when he goes to town.